

Hello. Good morning, I am Petevinuo from Nagaland. I'm studying in Don Bosco College Kohima(DBCK), 2nd semester taking up English as my major subject.

I am grateful for being the first batch of NCC in DBCK. Indeed it was a great life changing for me and my friends. We get every opportunity during every program. And everything we do does not go in vain but gains something small but important pieces which we are lacking behind. It also teaches us time management and discipline which is important for this generation as many of us are lacking on how to manage our time.

After joining NCC, I encountered many new things which I haven't thought that I would experience. Joining NCC helps me a lot in many ways, and it also affects my life somehow. Nowadays, as being a girl we feel unsafe whenever we are out alone but after joining NCC does a huge benefit on us. We were taught self-defense and how to protect ourselves and it helps me alot and gives me the sense of safety whenever I have work and have to go home alone. And this was the benefits I gained and how NCC affected my life after joining NCC.

I'd met many incidents that had changed my life. But there's a time where I found it a life changer for me. I've been an introvert and I sometimes find it hard to mingle with people whom I'm not used to.

Being a member of NCC does not mean you have to work alone but unite with people and work with unity, as the motto itself is " Unity and Discipline".

One day it happened to me that my best friend was absent and I came across none to company. But later some of my mates came and started chatting with me. I felt uncomfortable at first but after some days I felt used to it. And after this incident it really helps me to come out from being an introvert.
