WHAT NCC MAKES YOU IN THE END...

I am a pursuing degree student, who joined NCC by chance. I haven't been in any one of uniformed forces before. It was quiet hard to be busy for 24 hours engaged in different levels of work. But today after completing 2 years, I realise the changes it made in me.

Today, I am able to face a crowd and stand on the right side even if that means standing alone without any regrets and fear. I became more confident in interacting with others and speak maturely. I experienced what it feels to be busy when the whole world is waiting for chances. I learned success is the first failure because it makes me lazy. No matter how it end but it always matters how we worked to bring out the best in us. This organization taught me to complete any work without any hesitate and with complete sincerity and honesty.

“Experience what it feels to be the best”.

The best doesn't means to be the first, or the finalist. The best here, in NCC means bringing out our total efforts with truthfulness with zero excuses to LEAD...
